Can this battle-scarred cowboy find redemption in her arms? Rory Sullivan has always grown up in her sisters shadows. But this summer, shes determined to make some changes. Rekindling her teenage friendship with Pyrite Fallss prodigal son, Gideon Payne, feels like a good start. She can instantly see hes in pain, but shes sick of being afraid of life and she refuses to be intimidated by him. But is she brave enough to act on her attraction to Gideons raw physicality? Decorated army hero Gideons return has sent the local community into parade-planning overdrive. Except Gideon isnt the all-around golden boy who left. His life imploded in the same explosion that caused his honorable discharge from the armyhe lost his career, his marriage and he damn near lost himself. Gideon knows Rory is far too innocent for someone as damaged as him. But the scorching hunger between them is irresistible All he can offer is something temporary, unless Rory can make Gideon see hes capable of giving her everything she needs
