An Indomitable Clan In A Mighty Land TEXAS...it was where Caleb Sax, the half-breed Indian many knew as Blue Hawk, dared to love a white woman, take her for his own, and with her raise a dynasty in a territory torn by conflict. TEXAS...where the Sax clan would fight the land-hungry newcomers and Comanche who strove to uproot them; where the war with Mexico for a free republic would pit the Sax clan against an army thousands strong. TEXAS...where a bold new generation is born Caleb's exotically beautiful daughter Lynda, a woman who shares his half-breed blood and reckless passions, who gives her heart to a man, but vows he will never conquer her spirit; and Tom, Caleb's Cheyenne son. A man willing to fight--and die--for his land and the white woman he longs to call his own. Children of a proud past, all would ride a tempest of glory and desire for their country's future--and for their love.
