Instead, he destroys everyone who has hurt me in a storm of fire and vengeance When evil forces in Maledin threaten everyone I know and love, there's only one person who is strong enough to help me defeat them, and the only place where I'm safe from an ancient foe is in the arms of the Flame King. I was a dead king's sacrificial bride, until his murderer claimed me as his. Zabriel invaded my country of Maledin on the back of a monstrous, fire-breathing dragon and took me prisoner. The lethal Zabriel towers over me in steel plate armor, and he could easily crush the life out of me—but the Flame King isn't interested in harming me. Zabriel invaded my country.
