This illustrated children's book is for all parents who want their children to believe that they can achieve anything they set out to do! Inspired by a first-time father, the star of the book is a young girl named Aliya who finds her CONFIDENCE by BELIEVING that she can do ANYTHING! This book is for parents just as much as it is for kids, so read along as your child grows from infant to toddler and encourage them to believe in themselves along the way.
