How to Get Your Marriage Certificate in Pakistan: Easy Steps

If you recently got married or plan to tie the knot, you will need a marriage certificate. In Pakistan, this process is managed by NADRA (National Database and Registration Authority). This guide will explain how to get, verify, and attest your marriage certificate.

Marriage Certificate NADRA

A NADRA marriage certificate is an official document issued by the government of Pakistan. This certificate is computerized, which makes it secure and easy to verify. It is needed for many important tasks, such as applying for a visa, proving your marital status, and changing your name on official documents.

Marriage Certificate Pakistan

To get a marriage certificate in Pakistan, you need to follow these steps:

1. Register Your Marriage: Go to your local Union Council and register your marriage.
2. Submit Documents: Provide the CNIC copies of both spouses, witnesses, and photographs.
3. Fill Out the Form: Complete the application form available at the Union Council.
4. Pay the Fee: Pay the required fee for the certificate.

Once these steps are completed, NADRA will issue your marriage certificate.

Marriage Certificate Verification

Verifying your marriage certificate ensures that it is authentic. Here's how you can do it:

1. Online Verification: Go to the NADRA official website.
2. Enter Details: Provide the certificate number and CNIC numbers.
3. Submit: Click the submit button to verify.

You can also visit a NADRA office for verification if needed.

Computerized Marriage Certificate Pakistan

A computerized marriage certificate has many benefits:

- Accuracy: It ensures all details are correct.
- Security: It is harder to forge than a manual certificate.
- Convenience: It can be easily accessed and verified online.
- Acceptance: It is widely accepted for official purposes both in Pakistan and abroad.

Marriage Certificate Attestation

If you need to use your marriage certificate abroad, you will need to get it attested. Here's how:

1. Notary Public: First, get it attested by a notary public.
2. Foreign Office: Then, submit it to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for attestation.
3. Embassy: Finally, get it attested by the embassy of the country where you need to use it.

Conclusion

Getting and verifying a marriage certificate in Pakistan is straightforward with the help of NADRA. Whether you need it for legal purposes, immigration, or personal records, this guide provides all the information you need. Similarly, obtaining a birth certificate in Pakistan follows a simple process through NADRA, ensuring the document is secure and accurate. A computerized marriage certificate is secure, accurate, and widely accepted, making it an essential document for married couples in Pakistan.
