Authors E. B. Carlson & F. W. M. Veitch, reproduced with permission. Dissociative Experiences Scale-II (DES-B) (Dalenberg C, Carlson E.) modified for DSM by C. Dalenberg and E. Carlson. Some people have the experience of finding themselves dressed in clothes that they don't remember putting on. This measure is based on measures produced using U.S. federal government resources and is therefore in the public domain and freely available for use without permission so long as authorship is accurately attributed. This measure is based on measures produced using U.S. federal government resources. The Dissociative Experiences Scale Taxon (DES-T; Waller & Ross,) is an eight-item subscale of the full-scale DES. The format is the same as the full-scale DES, with each item scored by dropping the zero on the circle a number to show what percentage of the time this happens to you. Scoring the DES-II. Circle a number to show what percentage of the time this happens to you. The DES score is the average of all the questions, so the minimum score is 0 and the maximum score is [2]. To calculate this yourself, all the questions are scored by dropping the zero on the Dissociative Experiences Scale (DES). Some people have the experience of not being sure whether things that they remember happening really did happen or whether they just dreamed them. (never) 0% (always) Scoring the DES-II.
