By running as an independent she will split the conservative vote in these socially progressive households and divide some of the nation's richest and most influential families, social circles and boardrooms.

The three groups said the money will be spent mostly in swing states and states that could be integral to their efforts to maintain abortion access across the country, including Georgia, Michigan, Pennsylvania and California.

On the plus side, however, CyberGhost is still faster than Norton Secure VPN and was less taxing on my device's processing power during testing. It also offers split tunneling in its Windows client and has its servers neatly organized into categories: NoSpy servers, servers geared for torrenting, servers best for streaming and servers best for use with a static IP address. CyberGhost imposes no data caps and allows unlimited server switching.

The report comes ahead of an expected increase in the official cash rate by the Reserve Bank of Australia, the first rise in more than a decade, and follows last week's exceptionally strong inflation figures.
