It is the 30th chapter of the Quran and was revealed to the Prophet Muhammad in Makkah. It contains 27 verses. Surah Yaseen is one of the shortest chapters in the Quran and is often recited for its spiritual benefits. The chapter is named after the word 'Yaseen', which is the 27th letter of the Arabic alphabet. The chapter is divided into three parts, each containing nine verses. The first part is a Basmala (In the name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful), followed by a verse of praise for Allah. The second part is a verse of praise for Allah, followed by a verse of praise for Allah. The third part is a verse of praise for Allah, followed by a verse of praise for Allah. The chapter is a beautiful and powerful recitation that should be read with a heart full of devotion and a mind full of reflection.
