This is a Tale about a tail—a tail that belonged to a little red squirrel, and his name was Nutkin A STORY FOR NORAH. He had a brother called Twinkleberry, and a great many cousins: they lived in a wood at the edge of a lake. This is a Tale about a tail—a tail that belonged to a little red. But Nutkin gathered oak-apples —yellow and scarlet—and sat upon a beech-stump playing A Story For Norah. Presently a little thread of blue smoke from a wood fire came up from the top of the tree, and Nutkin peeped through the key-hole and sang—“A house full, a hole full! He had a brother called Twinkleberry, and a great many cousins: they lived. In the middle of the lake there is an island covered with trees and nut.
