

Translations:8bits & Chocolate - distributeur décoratif de friandises/29/en

As previously explained (admit that you jumped directly to this one), the principle of this distributor is that it is flexible! Simply put, if you want to make a journey 2 meters high it's possible. Just cut out the modules you need and assemble them in whatever order you want. For the moment I realized 6 modules:

- A candy container in pixelated heart (to take back lives)
